POLICE CAPTURE NOTORIOUS CROOK

BOSTON, June 27.—Police have under arrest for New York a man they have identified as the bogus Lord Ashburton, a celebrated Frisco crook, who has also posed as C. Francis Richards, Colonel Hay, Charles C. Bertram, G. Saville and under a hundred other aliases. He was found summering in Winthrop. He has lately been employed by a Boston oil firm and has been wanted for some time by the New York police for passing worthless checks. His trail of crime reached from Boston to Shanghai, China, and his "mug" is in every rogues' gallery of the world. He served three years of an eight years' sentence in San Francisco, and was prosecuted by the Bank of Nevada.

HACKENSCHMIDT ISN'T DEAD.
AIX LA CHAPELLE, June 27.—George Hackenschmidt, the ex-champion wrestler, whose death has been reported, is alive and apparently well. He has completely recovered from the effects of an operation upon his knee, which he underwent recently. He was seen this evening at the Kaiser Hotel, where he has been stopping the past week, and he said that the operation, which was a minor one, had been entirely successful. His condition, he added, was excellent.

HENRY WEBER GETS SEVEN YEARS

GOLDFIELD, June 27.—Seven years in the penitentiary at Carson was the sentence given Henry Weber by Judge F. P. Langan, of the District Court, at 3:30 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Motions in arrest of judgment and for a new trial were both overruled by the court. At 10 o'clock Saturday arguments will be made on the question of admitting Mr. Weber to bail pending an appeal to the Supreme Court of this State. The defendant's physical condition is not of the best, and it is presumed that the court will release him upon the production of sufficient bonds.

Henry Weber is one of the best-known mining operators in Nevada. He is heavily interested at Wonder, and controls the Vulture, which was the first property in that camp to ship ore. He is distinctly a Goldfield booster, and his public spirit has never been found lacking. On Thursday evening a jury found him guilty of embezzlement, the prosecution growing out of the alleged conversion of $10,000 given him by Captain Thomas Hooper, who thought he was buying Doctor Treasury stock, and later says he ascertained that the money had gone to Mr. Weber's personal credit and never devoted to development work on the Doctor property at Wonder.

The courtroom was crowded at the hour named, as the case has attracted considerable interest throughout the district.

WINS FORTUNE ON GRUBSTAKE

SEATTLE, Wash., June 27.—The Supreme Court at Olympia today affirmed the judgment of the King County Court in the suit of James H. Causten, former Deputy Collector of Customs at St. Michael, asking for a partnership accounting from E. T. Barnette on a contract entered into in 1901. Causten claims this contract, which was in the nature of a grubstake, laid the foundation for Barnette's fortune, and that his share is one-third of Barnette's holdings. The Supreme Court does not decide the value of Causten's claim.

Barnette, in 1901, shipped $20,000 worth of supplies, bought in San Francisco, up the Yukon. The boat sprung a leak, and he was forced to return to St. Michael. There Causten assisted in furnishing funds to resume the journey, and a contract was signed which was the basis of the suit. The goods were taken up the river by Barnette and Charles Smith, who was associated with the other two, and a trading post was established at what is now the town of Fairbanks. Barnette is now rated at more than $1,000,000, principally acquired as the result of the 1901 venture.

Suit was brought in King County on the contract, service being made on Barnette in 1906. The Supreme Court scores Barnette's attempts to evade service, his evasive answers to the witness stand and other tactics of similar nature.

IMMIGRATION WORK SAVES EMPLOYES

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Partly in order to save many employees from dismissal because of the heavy decrease of immigration, the Department of Commerce and Labor has set some of them to work during the Spring and summer investigating the number of aliens subject to deportation that have become public charges in penal and charitable institutions. It is said that the results of such investigations have been surprising. Hundreds of such dependent aliens have been deported. Inasmuch as immigration on the Pacific Coast is of a different character than that in other parts of the country, conditions are different, and the same proportions of aliens is not found in public institutions.
